

I very much agree with the sentiments expressed below. I vote and contribute to political candidates. I will also let my Congressman and Senator know if I think the FCC is not doing their job enforcing the standards and laws of free and public airwaves. If the FCC does not do the job for which they were created, maybe it is time to overhaul the FCC.

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
